4. Please provide any additional information about the information provided above:

In Indiana, postgraduate programs are considered alternative route programs. Post-graduate program data are included in the alternative report.

Supervised Clinical Experience

Provide the following information about supervised clinical experience in 2020-21. (§205\(a\)\(1\)\(C\)\(iii\), §205\(a\)\(1\)\(C\)\(iv\))

Are there programs with student teaching models?

- Yes
 No

If yes, provide the next two responses. If no, leave them blank.

Programs with student teaching models (most traditional programs)

Number of clock hours of supervised clinical experience required prior to student teaching

Number of clock hours required for student teaching

Are there programs in which candidates are the teacher of record?

- Yes
 No

If yes, provide the next two responses. If no, leave them blank.

Programs in which candidates are the teacher of record in a classroom during the program (many alternative programs)

Number of clock hours of supervised clinical experience required prior to teaching as the teacher of record in a classroom

Number of years required for teaching as the teacher of record in a classroom

All Programs

Number of full-time equivalent faculty supervising clinical experience during this academic year (IHE staff)

Optional tool for automatically calculating full-time equivalent faculty in the system

Number of adjunct faculty supervising clinical experience during this academic year (IHE staff)

17

Number of cooperating teachers/K-12 staff supervising clinical experience during this academic year

397

Number of students in supervised clinical experience during this academic year

457

Please provide any additional information about or descriptions of the supervised clinical experiences:

The number of adjunct faculty include those who supervise student teachers and those who teach courses with pre-student teaching field experiences. The number of cooperating teachers includes mentor teachers for field experiences and student teaching. Numbers of faculty, teachers, and students is an unduplicated count; e.g. if a student participated in four field experiences, he/she is only counted once not four times. All teacher candidates participate in clinical experiences that provide robust opportunities to develop effective practitioners. In sequenced, clinical experiences, candidates integrate theory into practice, develop and test classroom management and pedagogical skills, hone their use of evidence in making professional decisions about practice, and integrate the standards of their professional community into their practice. Clinical experiences in all teacher education programs are classified as exploration phase, analysis phase, or synthesis phase. As candidates progress through the phases, they become more skilled and confident in the areas of planning, instruction, assessment, and reflection. The first two phases are the exploration and analysis phases. In the exploration phase, the emphasis is on student development and growth and involves observation and one-to-one instruction. In the analysis phase, candidates are placed in a P-12 classroom where they are involved in observation, one-to-one instruction, or whole class teaching. The teacher candidates in the exploration and analysis phases are evaluated by either the site coordinator or the licensed classroom teacher. The third and final phase is synthesis, which is a semester-long clinical internship. Candidates co-teach with a licensed teacher and are evaluated by both the licensed teacher and a university supervisor. The university supervisor makes multiple site visits to observe, conference, and conduct informal evaluations in anticipating of the Teacher Candidate Final Assessment. A full-year clinical internship experience is available to elementary education majors and special education majors.

Enrollment and Program Completers

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

>> Enrollment and Program Completers

In each of the following categories, provide the total number of individuals enrolled in teacher preparation programs for an initial teaching credential and the subset of individuals enrolled who also completed the program during the academic year.

Teachers Prepared

On this page, enter the number of program completers by the subject area in which they were prepared to teach, and by their academic majors. Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Teachers Prepared by Subject Area

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by subject area for academic year 2020-21.

For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Subject area" refers to the subject area(s) an individual has been prepared to teach. An individual can be counted in more than one subject area. If no individuals were prepared in a particular subject area, please leave that cell blank. (§205\(b\)\(1\)\(H\))

What are CIP Codes?

No teachers prepared in academic year 2020-21

If your program has no teachers prepared, check the box above and leave the table below blank (or clear responses already entered).

What are CIP codes? The Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) provides a taxonomic scheme that supports the accurate tracking and reporting of fields of study and program completions activity. CIP was originally developed by the U.S. Department of Education's National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) in 1980, with revisions occurring in 1985, 1990, and 2000 (<https://nces.ed.gov/ipeds/cipcode/Default.aspx?y=55>).

Teachers Prepared by Academic Major

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by academic major for academic year 2020-21. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Academic major" refers to the actual major(s) declared by the program completer. An individual can be counted in more than one academic major. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major, please leave that cell blank. (§205\(b\)\(1\)\(H\))

Please note that the list of majors includes several "Teacher Education" majors, as well as several noneducation majors. Please use care in entering your majors to ensure education-specific majors and non-education majors are counted correctly. For example, if an individual majored in Chemistry, that individual should be counted in the "Chemistry" academic major category rather than the "Teacher Education–Chemistry" category.

Program Assurances

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

>> Program Assurances

Respond to the following assurances. Note: Teacher preparation programs should be prepared to provide documentation and evidence, when requested, to support the following assurances. (§205\(a\)\(1\)\(A\)\(iii\); §206\(b\))

Program Assurances

1. Program preparation responds to the identified needs of the local educational agencies or States where the program completers are likely to teach, based on past hiring and recruitment trends.

- Yes
 No

2. Preparation is closely linked with the needs of schools and the instructional decisions new teachers face in the classroom.

- Yes
 No

3. Prospective special education teachers are prepared in core academic subjects and to instruct in core academic subjects.

- Yes
 No
 Program does not prepare special education teachers

4. Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students with disabilities.

- Yes
 No

5. Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to limited English proficient students.

- Yes
 No

6. Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students from low-income families.

- Yes
 No

7. Prospective teachers are prepared to effectively teach in urban and rural schools, as applicable.

- Yes
 No

8. Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

(1) USI has established relationships with school corporations within a sixty-mile radius of our campus. Administrators from the university and the school corporations meet periodically to discuss the needs of the local school corporations. We continually look for ways to partner. Clinical experiences are governed by a Memorandum of Understanding with each partner school corporation to identify the desired outcome of the collaboration for the cooperating school and the teacher education unit. (2) The systematic clinical experiences provided to candidates contribute significantly to making program completers classroom-ready. All teacher candidates participate in field experiences that provide robust opportunities to develop as effective practitioners. Our strong clinical component gives teacher candidates the opportunity to integrate theory into practice, to develop and test classroom management and pedagogical skills, to hone their use of evidence in making professional decisions about practice, and to understand and integrate the standards of their professional community. (3) We have identified specific courses in the general education portion of our program to provide an appropriate background across the P-12 school curriculum. Further, all special education majors are encouraged to choose a content minor. We have revamped the program, to allow room for a content minor within our 120-credit hour limit for a degree. (4) All teacher candidates are required to take an introductory course in instructing exceptional students. Additionally, the elementary and early childhood candidates take a course that provides strategies for teaching students with exceptional needs. (5) Currently, candidates are briefly introduced to providing instruction to limited English proficient students in EDUC 221 Diversity and Equity in Education, a course required in all programs. All elementary candidates take a course that addresses this need. We are in the process of developing a plan to include modules in other programs to address teaching limited English proficient students. (6) All licensure candidates are required to complete a course addressing equity and diversity in the education setting. A critical component of this course addresses the impact of socioeconomic status and the needs of students and families with low income. Primary criteria used when identifying partners for clinical experiences are Title I status and the socio-economic status and demographics of the population served by the institution. (7) Our clinically based approach to teacher preparation provides prospective teachers with opportunities to explore providing instruction to students from low-income families and to teach effectively in urban and rural schools. Candidates are placed within schools throughout the tri-state area (SW Indiana, SE Illinois and NW Kentucky). These schools reflect the socio-economic classifications and diversity of the communities within the urban, suburban or rural location in which they are located. Department policy mandates that teacher candidates have diverse field experiences. Candidates have ample opportunities to reflect upon and discuss their experiences in P-12 schools with their peers and their professors.

Annual Goals: Mathematics

Each institution of higher education (IHE) that conducts a traditional teacher preparation program (including programs that offer any ongoing professional development programs) or alternative route teacher preparation program, and that enrolls students receiving Federal assistance under this Act, shall set annual quantifiable goals for increasing the number of prospective teachers trained in teacher shortage areas designated by the Secretary or by the state educational agency, including mathematics, science, special education, and instruction of limited English proficient students.

Report Progress on Last Year's Goal (2020-21)

1. Did your program prepare teachers in mathematics in 2020-21?

If no, leave remaining questions for 2020-21 blank (or clear responses already entered).

- Yes
 No

2. Describe your goal.

To prepare at least 5 secondary mathematics teachers and to prepare 10 elementary, early childhood, or special education teachers who complete a mathematics minor

3. Did your program meet the goal?

- Yes
 No

4. Description of strategies used to achieve goal, if applicable:

USI offers scholarships to mathematics majors who add the secondary education minor. The scholarship is also available to early childhood, elementary, and special education majors who wish to minor in mathematics, although the minor does not expand the grade band listed on their licenses.

5. Description of steps to improve performance in meeting goal or lessons learned in meeting goal, if applicable:

Subject area department chairs are working on new promotional materials to attract content area majors into the teaching profession.

6. Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

Review Current Year's Goal (2021-22)

7. Is your program preparing teachers in mathematics in 2021-22? If no, leave the next question blank.

 No

8. Describe your goal.

To prepare at least 5 secondary mathematics teachers.

Set Next Year's Goal (2022-23)

9. Will your program prepare teachers in mathematics in 2022-23? If no, leave the next question blank.

- Yes
 No

10. Describe your goal.

At least 22 candidates will be enrolled in a program to prepare teachers in mathematics.

Annual Goals: Science

Each institution of higher education (IHE) that conducts a traditional teacher preparation program (including programs that offer any ongoing professional development programs) or alternative route teacher preparation program, and that enrolls students receiving Federal assistance under this Act, shall set annual quantifiable goals for increasing the number of prospective teachers trained in teacher shortage areas designated by the Secretary or by the state educational agency, including mathematics, science, special education, and instruction of limited English proficient students.

Report Progress on Last Year's Goal (2020-21)

1. Did your program prepare teachers in science in 2020-21?

If no, leave remaining questions for 2020-21 blank (or clear responses already entered).

- Yes
 No

2. Describe your goal.

To prepare at least 5 secondary science teachers and to prepare at least 5 elementary, early childhood, or special education teachers who complete a science minor

3. Did your program meet the goal?

- Yes
 No

4. Description of strategies used to achieve goal, if applicable:

USI offers scholarships to science majors who add the secondary education minor. The scholarship is also available to early childhood, elementary, and special education majors who wish to minor in science, although the minor does not expand the grade band listed on their licenses.

5. Description of steps to improve performance in meeting goal or lessons learned in meeting goal, if applicable:

Subject area department chairs are working on new promotional materials to attract content area majors into the teaching profession.

6. Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

Review Current Year's Goal (2021-22)

7. Is your program preparing teachers in science in 2021-22? If no, leave the next question blank.

- Yes
 No

8. Describe your goal.

To prepare at least 5 secondary science teachers

Set Next Year's Goal (2022-23)

9. Will your program prepare teachers in science in 2022-23? If no, leave the next question blank.

- Yes
 No

10. Describe your goal.

To enroll at least 10 science majors in the secondary education minor program

The pass rates table is populated from files provided by the testing company or state. The table provides information on the performance of the students in your teacher preparation program on each teacher credential assessment used by your state. In cases where a student has taken a given assessment more than once, the highest score on that test is used. In the case of a teacher preparation program with fewer than 10 scores reported on any single initial teacher credential assessment during an academic year, the program shall collect and publish information with respect to an average pass rate and scaled score on each state credential assessment taken over a three-year period. \(§205\(a\)\(1\)\(B\)\)

Please note that this page does not have an edit feature as the pass rates have already been through several rounds of verification. If you identify an error, please contact Westat's Title II Support Center and your testing company representative.

Use of Technology

1. Provide the following information about the use of technology in your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request. (§205\(a\)\(1\)\(F\))

Does your program prepare teachers to:

- a. integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction

- Yes
 No

- b. use technology effectively to collect data to improve teaching and learning

- Yes
 No

- c. use technology effectively to manage data to improve teaching and learning

- Yes
 No

- d. use technology effectively to analyze data to improve teaching and learning

- Yes
 No

2. Provide a description of the evidence that your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction, and to use technology effectively to collect, manage, and analyze data in order to improve teaching and learning for the purpose of increasing student academic achievement. Include a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to use the principles of universal design for learning, as applicable. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

In USI's teacher preparation programs, faculty balance technology with content and knowledge, focus on context, emphasize classroom practice, and use appropriate technology tools for different tasks. All education classrooms have a presentation station and 15-24 computers. Three classrooms have a Promethean® Board; one classroom has an Epson® projector that converts a white board to an interactive board. Additionally, the Teacher Education Department has a classroom set of iPads®, a classroom response system set, several webcams, and a few Flip® cameras. Most area P-12 schools have interactive boards, 1-to-1 programs, and use Google® Classroom. In all programs, technology is embedded and modeled throughout. All education courses use Blackboard® to provide syllabi, class materials, and gradebook access. Most courses also use Tk20, the data management software used for key assessments. Tk20 is also used for submission of materials such as the formal application for admission to teacher education. Other popular technology used in classes include using the internet for research and Microsoft® Office suite. The EPP lesson plan template used in all analysis methods courses and student teaching requires students to include "flexible plans for using technology." If the use of contemporary technology is included in a lesson plan, teacher candidates add an addendum in which they modify at least one activity to describe how they would use the activity if technology were not available. If the plan does not include the use of technology, teacher candidates add an addendum in which they modify at least one activity to include the meaningful and appropriate use of contemporary technology. During student teaching, teacher candidates submit a technology survey each week identifying ways they used technology to enhance teaching and learning. Further, in the student teaching seminar course, candidates complete an impact on student learning project. In the project, candidates compile data and display student assessment data digitally.

Teacher Training

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

>> Teacher Training

Provide the following information about your teacher preparation program.

(§205(a)(1)(G))

Teacher Training

1. Provide a description of the activities that prepare general education teachers to:

a. Teach students with disabilities effectively

All candidates take at least one class in teaching children with exceptional needs. All lesson plans include a section on how the candidate plans to differentiate the lesson to meet the needs of students including accommodations and modifications specific to IEPs.

b. Participate as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act.

All candidates are provided an orientation to developing IEPs in the introduction to special education class with opportunities to review recorded IEP meetings.

c. Effectively teach students who are limited English proficient.

All candidates take a class titled Diversity and Equity in Education. In this course candidates critique lesson plans and books to determine the extent to which multicultural standards of engagement are addressed. Elementary education candidates take a course in teaching English language learners (ELLs). In this course candidates study concepts, theories, and research related to the nature and acquisition of second languages so as to construct learning environments that support culturally and linguistically diverse learners' literacy, language development and content-area achievement. Candidates explore research-based instructional approaches and techniques for teaching ELLs English skills and content area standards. Candidates analyze linguistic diversity from a global perspective and formulate a philosophy about language teaching and learning from the perspective of a global citizen. Candidates apply knowledge of second language acquisition theories to develop a plan for designing instruction and assessment that is responsive to linguistically diverse students.

2. Does your program prepare special education teachers?

- Yes
 No

If yes, provide a description of the activities that prepare special education teachers to:

a. Teach students with disabilities effectively

Candidates take courses that include teaching methods, behavior management, and assessments appropriate for students with exceptional needs. Candidates participate in field-based activities at both the elementary and secondary level. Candidates participate in IEP development including post-secondary transitions.

b. Participate as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act.

Candidates are provided an orientation to developing IEPs in introduction to special education class with opportunities to review recorded IEP meetings. In a required class for special education majors, candidates participate in mock IEP meetings. Additionally, during a field-based course, candidates participate in a case conference meeting.

c. Effectively teach students who are limited English proficient.

All candidates take a class titled Diversity and Equity in Education. In this course candidates critique lesson plans and books to determine the extent to which multicultural standards of engagement are addressed. Elementary education candidates take a course in teaching English language learners (ELLs). Contextual Information

Please use this space to provide any additional information that describes your teacher preparation program(s). You may also attach information to this report card (see below). The U.S. Department of Education is especially interested in any evaluation plans or interim or final reports that may be available.

The mission of the University of Southern Indiana Teacher Education Department is to prepare reflective practitioners who know and understand the communities in which they work, their students, and their subject areas and who utilize research-based pedagogical practices that promote well-being in diverse and global settings. The vision of the University of Southern Indiana Teacher Education Department is to empower innovative leaders in their schools, their professions, and their communities. The overarching goal of teacher preparation programs is to provide teacher candidates with classroom instruction and experiences in P-12 school settings that facilitate critical reflection of learning, teaching, and schooling from diverse perspectives. More specific program outcomes are derived from the four categories of the Interstate Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (InTASC) model core teaching standards: Learner and Learning, Content and Content Pedagogical Knowledge, Instructional Practices, and Professional Responsibilities. USI has adopted the following list of 13 outcomes. (1) Candidates will design and implement learning experiences demonstrating an understanding of how learners grow and develop. (2) Candidates will enable each learner to meet high standards demonstrating an understanding of individual differences and diverse culture. (3) Candidates will create learning environments that encourage positive social interaction and active engagement in learning. (4) Candidates understand the central concepts, tools of inquiry, and structures of the discipline he/she teaches. (5) Candidates create learning experiences that make the discipline accessible and meaningful for learners. (6) Candidates engage learners in critical thinking, creativity, and collaborative problem solving related to real world issues. (7) Candidates use multiple methods of assessment to monitor learner progress and to guide instructional decision-making. (8) Candidates plan instruction that supports every student in meeting rigorous learning goals drawing upon knowledge of content, curriculum, pedagogy, and knowledge of learners and the community context. (9) Candidates use a variety of research-based instructional strategies appropriate for the content and the learner. (10) Candidates engage in ongoing professional learning. (11) Candidates evaluate and reflect on his/her practice and adapt practice to meet the needs of learners. (12) Candidates collaborate with colleagues, parents, and other stakeholders. (13) Candidates seek appropriate leadership roles and opportunities. USI has adopted the following list of professional dispositions (habits of professional action and moral commitments) expected of all teacher candidates. The teacher candidate: demonstrates respect for cultural differences and beliefs, demonstrates compassion for those experiencing difficulty, demonstrates patience during the learning process, maintains appropriate confidentiality, demonstrates high expectations for self and others, demonstrates effective collaboration skills, addresses issues of concern professionally, demonstrates flexibility during the learning process, maintains professional appearance, is prepared for class or appointments, is punctual for class or appointments, seeks help when needed, actively seeks out new information, demonstrates reflective practice in written or verbal form, responds positively to constructive criticism, demonstrates compliance with laws/regulations/policies/standards, demonstrates academic integrity, and demonstrates effective communication in written or verbal form.
